

BenchPro™ is a US based production furniture manufacturing company with sales and distribution facilities in California and a manufacturing plant in Baja California. Quality features like our 5,000 pound capacity, our 10-year warranty, our use of name brand materials like Formica and Nevamar, plus the use of wood, steel and tube produced in the USA illustrate how we produce and distribute the finest workbenches available today. We stock nothing, yet produce workbenches and chairs in hundreds of colors and sizes in one to three days.

Our six basic bench designs cover the entire workbench range while our chairs are made for every industrial application. Our staff of over 100 people, combined with our efficient plants equaling over 130,000 square feet of production space make a product unequalled in today's production furniture market.
